Midway Chatter

Every fair has its individual problems, and this one is no different. It started before the fair, when the racing committee realized it would need additional stall space for the harness horses this year.

One of the first suggestions was to house part of the 4-H horse projects in a tent, using the barn space relieved for the race horses.

This solution turned out to be very unpopular, so a number of alternatives were discussed. Tempers flared.

Finally a meeting of the fair board, 4-H horse club advisers, parents and 4-H agent Steve Bartels and county agent George Hamrick was held. The decision reached at this meeting after much discussion was to erect portable stalls for the race horses in the area of the race barns.

A part of the problem arose through the efforts of the Pickaway County fairboard to constantly improve the fair. They joined the Southeastern Ohio Colt Assn. to bring better quality harness racing to the fair.

Last January when the board reached the decision to hold stake races, they had no idea how many more horses would be coming to the fair. Until the Wellston fair, the first on the Southeastern Colt Circuit, they could not accurately estimate the number of additional horses that would be coming here. The fair board members should be complimented for their efforts.

The races begin at 4:30 p.m. Tuesday. There will be 14 heats, including two divisions of a pace for none winners of $3,000, one division of a trot for non winners of $2,000, two divisions of the 2-year-old pace stake, two divisions of the 3-year-old trot stake. There will be a host of local horsemen racing, including: Jim Zimmerman, Jack Betts, Ronald Neal, Bryan Weaver, Gene Young, Ralph Isaac, Porter Martin, Jim Arledge.

James Rhodes, candidate for governor, made a whirlwind tour of the Pickaway County Fairgrounds Sunday, visiting with fellow Republicans, shaking hand with the people on the midway, winning a doll for his grandson and John Lawhorn's basketball throw game, and a stop at the king and queen and talent contest at the grandstands.

The former governor lashed out at the Gilligan administration, saying that "if there is any Watergate in Ohio it is Gilligan."

"It's curious that Gilligan can find UFO's while vacationing in Michigan but cannot find an $80,000,000 surplus in Ohio," Rhodes said. "I believe most folks manage their money a little better than that." Rhodes noted that Gilligan had four finance directors in 3½ years. Rhodes added that "It is evident that Gilligan doesn't want the responsibilities of the governor's job, he just wants the honor."

Today's events at the fair included the miscellaneous 4-H project judging, 4-H horse and pony show, home economics clothing judging, flower show, open barrow show. This evening the Holstein District 5 show will be held at 7 p.m., the junior fair style review will be at 7 p.m., the thrill show will be at 8 p.m.

The Pickaway County Porkettes selected the 1974 pork queen today at 4 p.m. in conjunction with the fair.

Tomorrow, the junior fair swine show will be held, the senior style review will be at 7 p.m., the Guernsey and Jersey open dairy show will be in the show arena at 7 p.m. and WNRE night will be at the Grandstand beginning at 8 p.m.

Weather

Sunny and warmer today with a chance of showers or thundershowers later this afternoon. High today in the 90s, clear and cool tonight with low in the 60s. Clear and cool tomorrow with a low in the 80s.

Sue Milburn, Nolan Hines Elected Fair Queen, King

1974 FAIR KING AND QUEEN—Crowned as the 1974 Pickaway County Fair Queen during the first evening of the six-day event was Sue Milburn, left, daughter of Robert Milburn, 323 Meadow Lane. Nolan Hines, back left, was selected as the king of the fair. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Hines, Route 1, Ashville. Runners up selected from the 14 remaining contestants are Suzi Ervin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Ervin, Route 1, Ashville and Phil Karn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Karn, Route 2, Orient.

Stant Places Second In Freestyle At International Games

Larry Stant, 1995 Ottawa Drive, finished third in the breast stroke, second in the freestyle and sixth in the back stroke at the International Wheelchair Games held in Stoke Mandeville, England.

The freestyle, his best stroke, was the last event after the back and breast and there were only five minute breaks between events.

His time in the breast for 25 meters was 34 seconds. He swam the freestyle in 24 seconds and the back in 32.2. In addition he swam on the U.S. Wheelchair medley relay team. Although that race had not been held when he telephoned the results of the competition to his wife, Judy, he felt sure the U.S. team would finish second. The Great Britain team in preliminaries was clocked 12 seconds faster than the U.S. team and the closest team behind the U.S. team was 40 seconds slower. The U.S. team was clocked in 2:59 in the preliminaries.

Larry swam in two sets of preliminaries before the finals, beating approximately 15 people to get into the finals of each event.

Twenty-eight countries participated at the world meet with over 500 competitors including 45 athletes from the United States.

Larry is a member of the Buckeye Wheelers of Columbus and his teammates from there who won awards were Mike Dempsey and John Grey who won the men's table tennis doubles. Dempsey also qualified for the men's singles.

Larry travels with the U.S. team to Scotland this week for exhibition games and will return to Circleville on Friday.

Larry's trip with the U.S. team was sponsored by the Circleville Jaycees and his coach is Jim Shea.

A panel of three judges selected Sue Milburn and Nolan Hines as the 1974 Pickaway County Fair Queen and King Sunday night. The pair competed for the coveted crowns against eight other couples representing 4-H clubs throughout the county.

Interviews of the contestants for Fair King and Queen were conducted simultaneously with 12 acts in the talent contest. Winning first place in the talent show was Cristi Williams, doing a comedy act entitled "Edith Ann."

Runners up to the king and queen were Suzi Ervin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Ervin, Route 1, Ashville, and Phil Karn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Karn, Route 2, Box 327 Orient.

Miss Ervin was also one of the talent winners with a fire baton act.

The new king and queen were selected by judges Mr. and Mrs. Victor Lucas and Charles Clark. Lucas is the manager of the Ohio State Fair. Clark is the County Extension Agent in 4-H for Ross County. Judging the talent contest were Ron Coffman of the McClure Music Sales in Lancaster and Kevin Corcoran, the County Extension Agent for 4-H in Clinton County.

Emceed by Pickaway County Extension Agent George Hamrick, the contest went exceptionally smoothly with last year's king and queen, Steve Johnson and Jill Long, acting as escorts for this year's contestants. Chairwomen for the whole show were Tammy Martin and Molly Hamrick.

King and queen contestants were escorted to the stage where they were individually interviewed by Hamrick and selected a card upon which a question was printed. Part of the judging was based on the poise and confidence of the young contenders as well as their personal appearance and accomplishments.

The 1974 Fair Queen, Miss Sue Milburn, is the daughter of Mr. Robert Milburn and the late Mrs. Milburn. She represented the Stir and Chatter 4-H Club in Circleville. A 1974 graduate of Circleville High School, Miss Milburn has been active as a varsity cheerleader, pitcher of the girls' softball team and Girls' Athletic Association as well as many other activities both in and out of the school environment.

Glowing from a lovely tan beneath golden hair and a white dress, Miss Milburn charmed the judges as well as the audience as she pertly answered her questions with that certain pizzazz which has helped her to achieve so many of her goals.

She said she was very shocked but so very glad to represent her 4-H club this well. This summer she is working as a life guard at Deercreek State Park and plans to attend The Ohio State University in the fall. She said she was still undecided as to a career. In addition to entering the queen contest, Miss Milburn has a long formal entered in the sewing department.

Representing the Duvall Go-Getters from Harrison Township, the 1974 Fair King is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Hines, Route 1, Ashville. Nolan will be a senior this fall at Teays Valley High School and said he had considered going to The Ohio State University upon graduation and studying veterinary medicine.

His only comment on becoming the new king was he still had "weak legs". In addition to the king contest, he has entered a steer, a heifer, two market hogs and a gilt in the fair livestock competition.

At Teays Valley, Nolan has been active in the Key Club, the Drama Club, French Club, National Honor Society, In the Know Team and was a delegate to Buckeye Boys' State. During his interview, he told of his experiences and responsibilities while at Boys' State. His question from the emcee was if he could select a celebrity to attend the Pickaway County Fair, whom would he choose. Quite a mature answer he gave, Red Skelton because everybody loves to laugh.

Runner up to Queen Sue was Suzi Ervin who is a graduate of Teays Valley High School. She told Hamerick she had plans to attend the Hocking Technical Institute to study practical nursing. Her activities at Teays Valley included the Latin and Spanish Clubs, the newspaper and yearbook staffs and head majorette for the marching band. She was the 1973 Miss Ashville Fourth of July.

Her question was where she would go if given a dream vacation. She replied that she would just rather stay at home because she felt she never really had time to appreciate her home and the people around her. She represented the Walnut Sitchettes and the BB Rifle Rangers.

King runner up Phillip Karns is a graduate of Westfall High School and will be a sophomore at Purdue University this fall. His question concerned the effect of the present political situation on the voting public. He said he felt today's political problems would only serve to give a deeper insight to the voter in making his selection at the polls.

Trophies were presented to the king and queen and their runners up by the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Five acts were selected winners from the 12 acts in the talent contest. Taking fifth place was Renee Partee as Raggedy Ann doing a pantomime and piano solo to "The Entertainer" from the movie "The Sting". Fourth place winner was act eight, Suzi Ervin twirling dual fire batons.

Third place winner was Becky Ward doing a rope dance with remarkable synchronization as did the second place winners also doing a rope dance, Barbara, Amy and Debby Schneider and Kathy Logan.

Taking the first place and the $25 prize was Cristi Williams doing a hilarious routine entitled "Edith Ann" in which she sat in her rocking chair and talked like a five-year-old much resembling the act Lily Tomlin did when "Laugh In" was on television.

The child, ecstatic from the announcement of the winners said she was going to spend her prize money on a trip to Mexico. The Williams family has had two exchange students staying with them and are planning a trip to return the students to their residence in Mexico.

2nd Impeachment Vote Set

WASHINGTON (AP) — A second impeachment article accusing President Nixon of violating the Constitution and his oath of office was drafted today by a bipartisan group which seemed certain to obtain its approval in the House Judiciary Committee.

The panel recommended Saturday to the House of Representatives that Nixon be impeached for the Watergate cover-up.

Debate on the second proposed article was delayed somewhat as drafting continued. Committee leaders were expected to press for a final vote by evening.

The redrafted second article was to be presented to the committee by Rep. William L. Hungate, D-Mo. It included five itemized charges and a conclusion that:

"In all of this Richard M. Nixon has acted in a manner contrary to his trust as President and subversive of constitutional government to the great prejudice of the cause of law and justice and to the manifest injury of the people of the United States."

The five charges were that Nixon: —Acted personally and through subordinates to get confidential income tax information from the Internal Revenue Service.

—Misused the FBI and Secret Service by directing or authorizing them to wiretap for purposes unrelated to national security.

—Established the so-called Plumbers unit "financed in part with money derived from campaign contributions which unlawfully utilized the resources of the Central Intelligence Agency."

—"Failed to take care that the laws were faithfully executed by failing to act when he knew or had reason to know that his close subordinates endeavored to impede or frustrate lawful inquiries by duly constituted executive, judicial and legislative entities concerning the unlawful entry into the headquarters of the Democratic National Committee."

—Misused executive power by interfering with the FBI, Watergate special prosecutor, criminal division of the Department of Justice, and CIA "in order corruptly to impede the due and proper administration of justice."

Democrats had not reached agreement Sunday on what specifics to include in the second proposed article.

But the compromise emerged today before the scheduled 10:30 a.m. opening time for the committee's nationally broadcast public debate.

ROUNDTOWN

PICKAWAY Board of Elections will have a booth at the fairgrounds located in the coliseum... A Board member will be present to explain absentee voting information... Registration of new voters, change of address or name will also be accepted... The voting machine will be demonstrated.

The compromise did not include any mention of contempt of Congress for refusal to supply subpoenaed tape recordings.

That now was expected to be taken up in a proposed third article.

Chairman Peter W. Rodino, D-N.J., hoped to get a vote on the second article by the end of the day.

No matter how the remaining articles fare, a House vote on whether Nixon should stand trial in the Senate was assured by Saturday's 27-11 vote to recommend impeachment.

Six of the committee's 17 Republicans joined all 21 Democrats in voting for Article I, and Democrats working for bipartisan support of Article II think as many as seven Republicans may support it.

Rep. M. Caldwell Butler, R-Va., one of the six, sees the 35 per cent support for impeachment among committee Republicans holding up on the House floor, which would mean about 65 Republican votes when the House acts on the committee's recommendation about Aug. 23.

With Southern Democrats in the House expected to be influenced by the votes for Article I cast by their three colleagues on the committee, a substantial majority of the House appears likely to support impeachment. If a House majority impeaches Nixon, a Senate trial then would determine whether he should be removed from office.

Impeachment by the House requires only a majority vote. Conviction in the Senate would require a two-thirds vote.

White House Chief of Staff Alexander Haig said today.

Texas Hostage Flees As Showdown Nears

HUNTSVILLE, Tex. (AP) — One of 15 hostages held by three armed convicts leaped through a glass door in a state prison building and escaped his captors today, officials reported.

They identified the escapee as Henry Escamilla, 40, one of four fellow inmates held captive since the hostages were taken nearly five days ago in the Texas State Prison.

Authorities said Escamilla suffered severe cuts around his head and shoulders, and was taken to a hospital semiconscious and bleeding heavily.

Escamilla's predawn dash from the education building inside the penitentiary was made during the overnight lull in negotiations between prison officials and the armed convicts, whose ringleader had said their standoff could end today in freedom for the rebels.

But Ron Taylor, a spokesman for the Texas Department of Corrections, told newsmen as negotiations with the convicts recessed Sunday night, "No decision has been made on any release." Talks were to resume at 8 a.m. today.

Fred Gomez Carrasco, who leads the three inmates holding the hostages in the third-floor library of the prison, had told newsmen earlier Sunday evening by telephone that "things are looking up."

"I believe we will conclude this in a few hours," Carrasco said. "If not provoked tonight, I believe tomorrow will be the day of release."

But Taylor said, "Negotiations have not changed. We have not received any additional demands. I think serious negotiations are ahead."

Carrasco, a former kingpin of illegal drug traffic in South Texas and Mexico, has indicated he wanted to take four hostages with him to Cuba, and he spoke to newsmen on Sunday night of Cuban Leader Fidel Castro.

"I believe if I do have an opportunity to communicate with him (Castro) by telephone, I do believe the man will give me refuge," Carrasco said in his thick Latin accent.

Taylor said prison officials planned to comply with Carrasco's request that newsmen be granted no more telephone interviews with the rebel leader. As for the two days of constant news interviews with Carrasco and the hostages, Taylor said:

"Quite frankly we didn't feel we could afford not to grant these requests for the hostages' sake. It would have been just too dangerous not to...."

He added, "... we have avoided death for any of the hostages for the period of time those interviews were going on."

The hostages include four other convicts; nine school teachers and librarians; the Rev. Joseph O'Brien, a Roman Catholic priest who is the prison chaplain; and a prison guard. All except Father O'Brien have been with the rebels since Wednesday.

Father O'Brien has been in the library since Thursday when he went there to negotiate with the rebels. Prison officials say he may be remaining with the rebels voluntarily.

The rebels have freed two persons, a wounded guard and a teacher who suffered a heart attack. One of the teachers still being held, Ron Robinson, was wounded in the shoulder last Thursday.

Prison officials have delivered to the rebels at Carrasco's demand three walkie-talkies, civilian clothes and two bulletproof helmets.

The rebels also have demanded bullet-proof vests, three automatic rifles and ammunition.

Law enforcement authorities were also looking for Carrasco's wife, Rosa, but Carrasco said "anyone who tried to get in touch with my wife or mother finds it will be to no avail. Even if my mother comes and gets down on her knees."

Markets

NEW YORK (AP) — Inflation worries and uneasiness over the impeachment issue combined to drive the stock market into a sharp decline today.

The noon Dow Jones average of 30 industrials was down 14.31 at 770.26, and losers swamped gainers by a 9-2 margin on the New York Stock Exchange. Trading was relatively light.

Brokers said investors were troubled over the possibility of new inflationary pressures arising from drought in Midwest farming areas. They said buying interest also appeared to be held back by the House Judiciary Committee's vote over the weekend approving an article of impeachment against President Nixon.

Evans Products, the Big Board volume leader, lost 1/2 to 6 1/2. A 99,900-share block traded at 6.

At the American Stock Exchange, the market value index was down .84 to 79.26.

Deputies Investigate 4 Weekend Accidents

Pickaway County Sheriff's Deputies investigated four accidents during the weekend resulting in two citations and two injuries.

Jeffrey C. Lee, 19, Ashville, was cited by Deputy James Deal for reckless operation when he lost control of his car, 2:32 a.m. Sunday, on Route 752.

The auto hit a bump in the road, going off the right berm striking a guardrail and bridge.

Lee was referred to his doctor for a laceration to the mouth.

Fear Weak NATO Anchor In Near East

WASHINGTON (AP) — In the wake of near-war over Cyprus, U.S. military analysts wonder whether Turkish and Greek forces will be able to cooperate effectively in the future as the southern anchor of the NATO alliance.

Taking a hopeful tack, they suggest the ouster of the Greek military junta blamed for fomenting the Cyprus coup may lead to a more stable situation, assuming the completion of successful negotiations between the new Greek government and the Turks.

But these analysts acknowledge the Turkish landing on Cyprus and other strains growing out of the crisis have inflamed a centuries-old Greek-Turkish enmity.

Some pessimists say the threat of war between Turkey and Greece, along with what they describe as a clumsy performance by Turkish forces on Cyprus, laid bare the weakness of NATO's southern flank.

"If I was the Russian commander, I'd cut my forces facing that flank by about 50 per cent," said one U.S. general.

Some optimists say they believe the Greeks and Turks would pull together and fight well if they were defending their own home soil against a Communist attack.

The Turkish operation on Cyprus was rated disappointing by many U.S. military professionals, after more than two decades of American training and advice and about $3 billion in American arms designed to build Turkey's forces into a strong bulwark against any Soviet threat in that quarter.

"The Turks didn't do as well as one might have expected," said a senior staff officer. "They may have underestimated their problems, even against the Cypriot national guard."

"Their planning, launching and landing were reasonably well done. But after they got ashore, they didn't move quite as vigorously as they should have. Perhaps they needed bigger forces to achieve their military objectives quickly."

American officers criticized the Turks for failing to take the port at Kyrenia early in the invasion. As a result, they said, the Turks were able to get ashore too few tanks and armored personnel carriers.

Steer Killed In Accident

Circleville City Police investigated an accident Saturday on Kingston Pike involving a car and steer.

Larry L. Pennington, 31, 430 N. Court St., was driving on Kingston Pike when an oncoming vehicle flashed its bright lights on blinding him just before his car struck the steer.

Owned by Bill Beck, Route 3, Logan, the steer was valued over $100.

Patrolman Ron Thompson investigated the incident.

Miss Nude World Named In Contest

FREETON, Ont. (AP) — Judy Walden, a 20-year-old blonde secretary from Laguna Beach, Calif., is the new Miss Nude World.

Miss Walden already held the Miss Nude U.S.A. title. In the Freeton competition on Sunday she defeated 27 other girls, including 13 Americans. Her prizes included trips to Acapulco and Florida.

Corbett, Columbus, was treated at Berger Hospital for possible internal injuries and abrasions received in a motorcycle accident 2 p.m. Sunday.

Corbett was riding on private property when he lost control of the cycle in some gravel.

Going into a ditch, the cycle flipped over throwing Corbett off.

Deputy J. Phillip Brown investigated the accident.

Deputy James Dixon cited Judith Ann Metzler, 29, Route 3, for failure to yield the right of way when she pulled into the path of a car driven by Jeff D. Spillman, 39, Orient, 4:22 p.m. Sunday.

Ms. Metzler was stopped at the stop sign on the Circleville-Florence Chapel Road when she was attempting to make a left turn onto Route 316 pulling into the path of Spillman's vehicle, causing the collision.

No injuries were reported.

Freddie D. Mathews, 26, Coalton, was cited for having an unsafe vehicle, by Deputy J. Phillip Brown, when he hit a bicyclist, 6:30 p.m. Sunday on South Court St.

Jimmy J. Reed, 8, 1338 S. Court St., was riding his bike north on Court Street, when he began to proceed across the road. Hearing the Mathews vehicle behind him, Reed was trying to get back off onto the berm of the road when he was hit.

No injuries were reported.

Impeachment

exander M. Haig Jr. acknowledged that if a vote were to be held now on the House floor "it would be very close."

Meanwhile, Assistant Democratic Leader Robert C. Byrd said chances are "growing daily" that the Senate would convict Nixon in an impeachment trial.

And Newsweek magazine said it had learned that one of Nixon's best congressional pulse-takers now counts only 36 senators for the President in an impeachment showdown—only two more than he would need to remain in office. And Newsweek said that six of those 36 must be considered "soft."

Although no final draft of Article II was approved at Sunday's caucus, members reported that it will accuse Nixon of violating his oath to preserve, protect and defend the Constitution, and his constitutional duty to see that the laws are faithfully executed.

The alleged violations include:

—Authorizing or permitting the use of wiretapping and the dissemination of information from such surveillance without any justification of national security.

—Interfering unlawfully with the administration of the Internal Revenue Service, the FBI and the CIA.

—Authorizing and allowing to be maintained a secret investigating unit (the plumbers) that engaged in unlawful activities.

—Impeding investigations of the Watergate break-in.

—Using his office to obtain information from the Department of Justice to help his aides who were under investigation for possible criminal prosecution in the Watergate cover-up.

—Failing to see that the laws were faithfully executed after he learned of the Watergate break-in and the involvement of his subordinates in the coverup.

Shifting majorities are expected for the various sections, but all are likely to remain in the article and win final approval.

As they did in debating Article I on Saturday, supporters of Article II are planning to present factual data to back up the allegations. They probably will run into the same criticism from anti-impeachment Republicans, that they have failed to provide sufficient details to support impeachment.

Following the advice of special counsel John Doar, the committee is keeping the language of the articles broad enough to cover any new developments that may occur in the Watergate investigation before the Senate trial is held, if there is one.

The House will have to spell out the actual charges before a trial, and will then be limited to those charges in presenting evidence.

With Nixon under Supreme Court orders to turn over 64 more tapes and documents to the special Watergate prosecutor, there is a possibility of further evidence becoming available that could fit into the broad language of the articles at this stage.

The likelihood of some action by the special prosecutor on Nixon's income taxes is being used by Rep. Edward Mezvinsky, D-Iowa, as an argument in favor of an additional article of impeachment charging Nixon with willful tax evasion.

Although the Internal Revenue Service did not assess Nixon a penalty for fraud when it held him $432,787 in arrears on his taxes for 1969-72, the matter has been presented to a grand jury.

EMCEE GEORGE—George Hamrick, Pickaway County Extension Agent, acted as emcee for the fair king and queen and talent contests held Sunday night. Keeping with the soaring temperatures during the late afternoon and early evening hours, Hamrick wore a canary yellow bermudas and contrasting sports jacket.

Airport Operator To Sign Contract

William Stout, chairman of the Pickaway County Airport Authority, notified commissioners today he expected to sign a contract with Tom Leckrone as airport operator.

Stout said that Leckrone expects to have an operator on duty full time beginning Saturday.

He also reported that Chuck Kerns, builder, expects to begin work on an administration building as soon as he is properly bonded. Reynolds Metals of Ashville is donating aluminum siding and window frames for the building.

Haze, Fog Prevalent

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Widely scattered thunderstorms stretched from the Southwest to the Northeast today and haze and fog blanked out much of the rest of the nation.

Only the South and the Northwest to the Upper Mississippi Valley had clear skies.

In Cordes, Ariz., 1 1/2 inches of rain fell in half an hour. The same amount hit Dalhart, Tex., in two hours along with winds gusting to 42 miles a hour.

Golfball-size hail pelted Jefferson, Ill., and hail half that size fell near Grand Rapids, Mich.

Haze reduced visibility to less than one mile in some parts of the Ohio and Tennessee Valleys and fog crept along most of the Pacific Coast.

Dear Friends,
Floral tributes are certainly in order at a religious burial. Memorials to honor the deceased, directed to a church or charity are a lasting tribute and are encouraged. This should not preclude floral tributes, which add such warmth and beauty to the funeral service, changing it from stark reality to a cherished memory picture.

Soybean Nitrogen Key To Future?

YELLOW SPRINGS, Ohio (AP) — Scientists at the Charles F. Kettering Research laboratory are looking for a solution to the world food crisis. They think they may find one in the soybean.

It is not because of the soybean's protein content, but because it is a legume, a type of plant that can convert or "fix" nitrogen from the air into a form usable as a plant nutrient.

Most food crops, such as corn, require large amounts of fertilizer to get the nitrogen needed for high yields.

The laboratory is trying to endow other food plants with the soybean's ability to use nitrogen directly from the air.

Scientists are also trying to duplicate nature's nitrogen fixation process in order to make nitrogen nutrients available at low cost and raise the world's food output.

With the price of fertilizer more than doubled in the past year, the energy shortage that limits fertilizer supply, a growing world population, environmental concerns, climate changes and limited agricultural land, the world food supply is perceived as an increasingly urgent problem.

Scientists like Dr. William E. Newton of the laboratory are optimistic.

"If I wasn't, I guess I wouldn't be here," said the 35-year-old British-born chemist who came here five years ago after two years at Harvard.

"I don't suppose the answer is going to come in any one big 'breakthrough,'" he said, "but rather in a series of small advances."

His particular interest is the chemistry of an enzyme called nitrogenase and the duplication of it synthetically in the laboratory.

He said researchers have been able to isolate and crystallize the enzyme material, an advance that should lead to some insight into its structure.

Another advance, he said, is the synthesis of a complex molecule that mimics some of the chemical characteristics of the enzyme.

It may be something like getting several notches filed correctly on a key, he said.

It won't open the door, yet, but it does start to fit the tumblers.

Value Of Farmland Shows Big Boost

WASHINGTON (AP) — The value of American farmland rose a record 25 per cent for the year that ended March 1, and rents on farmland also rose at a record rate, a detailed study of farm real estate shows.

The annual analysis of the March-to-March real estate picture by the Economic Research Service showed rents on pastures up 16 per cent, with a decline expected by next March's report.

Boosts in net farm income in 1973 bid up the rents on cropland but, again, declines in income this year are expected to bring them down. The increases ranged from 13 per cent more in Michigan to 50 per cent in North Dakota.

Rents nationwide for pasturing cattle on private land averaged $4.95 per head per month on March 1. That rate of gain was even sharper in the western states, where rents rose more than 27 per cent to $5.82 a head a month.

The pasture rent buildup was a reflection of ballooning demand during the 1960s and early 1970s for red meat that pushed up livestock prices until last year's peak, the report said.

The slide in prices since last fall and the readjustments in the livestock industry as it tries to recover a profit situation are expected to bring those rents down.

On the cropland side, Iowa's average rent of $57 an acre on land valued at $774 an acre topped all the states, the ERS said.

All but two states reported rent hikes of at least 20 per cent, although land values increased less than 20 per cent in 17 states.

Although rents are thought to have been bid down in preplanting negotiations this past winter, continued relatively higher crop prices means "competition for crop land can be expected to remain strong," the analysis said.

SAVINGS BOND AWARD—During the 1974 Savings Bond Campaign at the USS Chemicals, Molded Plastic Products plant, the Circleville Division had 76 per cent participation in the program. This represents an increase of 36 per cent over the 1973 U. S. Savings Bond Campaign. To be eligible to receive the Minute Man Flag, 50 per cent plant wide participation in the program was required. In the upper photo, E. W. Miller, Molded Plastics Products district manager was presented the Minute Man Flag for the Circleville Plant by Mr. L. E. Gunsett, U. S. Treasury representative. In the Lower photo, Donald D. Hannahs, personnel superintendent of the Circleville district, assisted by Frank Moss, raises the flag.

Governors Give Views On Fuel Pinch

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Midwest governors are displaying a wide array of views on possible fuel shortages next winter, but they seem united on one thing—they say there has been a lack of information from the federal government.

"The Midwest governors and all governors are enormously concerned about both the shortage and long-range problem," said Gov. John Gilligan of Ohio.

"We're upset that the national administration has not really done anything about a national energy policy or an apparatus to deal with the problem."

Gilligan, a Democrat, says President Nixon has tried to say the problem is gone, but the Ohio governor says it isn't so.

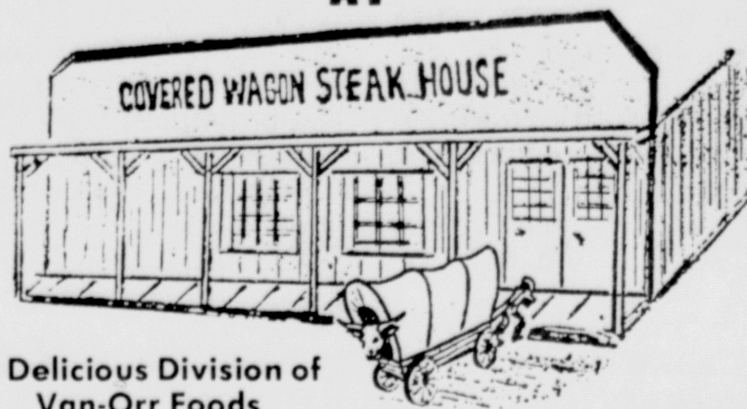

"The people have to be told the truth, that we can survive, but it will take restrictions."

Gilligan says the problem will be most acute for states without energy resources. Such states must import most or all of their energy needs, whether it be electricity, oil or coal.

"We need a national policy and we don't have it," Gilligan said in an interview. "That crowd that has been in there for six years hasn't done anything."

Energy problems will be on the agenda of the Midwest Governors' Conference Wednesday, including an address by the National Energy Administrator, John Sawhill.

When Fun Is Serious

Some people simply refuse to take the world seriously, and they are probably the better for it. With a little effort their persistent optimism becomes contagious.

So it was at the annual stone skipping tournament on Mackinac Island, Mich.

Stone skipping, for the uninitiated, is an event in the same class as tin can kicking or watermelon seed spitting. The object is to see how many times a small, flat-edged stone can be skipped across the top of a body of water before it finally loses momentum and sinks.

This year's contest set a new record—19 skips by Chicagoan David Bogan, surpassing the 1932 record of 17 skips. Like all true sports, stone skipping has developed a terminology of its own.

Plinks, or clean cut skips, are the best. Plonks skip only once before sinking. Skronkers miss the water altogether.

If a skronker hits a spectator, it becomes an "Agnew." And that is about as close to the concerns of the modern world as stone skipping approaches.

Great People Of The Bible

ON THE LINE
By BOB CONSIDINE

NEW YORK — Reader's Digest is coming out strong for God these days. Which must be encouraging to the Father. The biggest audience His Son ever had was the estimated two or three thousand who heard maybe the greatest of His sermons, the one on the Mount. But, of course, it lived, as did Lincoln's chat at Gettysburg, which also was played before a lot of empty seats.

Whatever, the Digest is preparing its subscribers and followers for the happy day when we all are admitted to that big PX in the sky.

It has published what must be the most beautifully printed and illustrated books of the year. It is titled "Great People of the Bible and How They Lived." Costs $14.95 at the bookstores, which may discourage a hunger for redemption, here and there.

"Great People" has impressive authors and editors. Some of them:

G. Ernest Wright, chairman, Old Testament Department, Harvard Divinity School, president of the American Schools of Oriental Research. Vaughn E. Crawford, curator, Department of Ancient Near Eastern Art, Metropolitan Museum of Art, New York. Fr. Stephen J. Hart-Dege, director, U.S. Center for the Catholic Biblical Apostolate. Rev. Dr. Laton E. Holmgren, general secretary, American Bible Society. Robert H. Johnston, dean, College of Fine and Applied Arts, Rochester Institute of Technology.

Also, James B. Pritchard, associate director of Biblical Archeology, University Museum professor of Religious Thought, University of Pennsylvania and the president of the Archeological Institute of America; Nahum M. Sarna, chairman, Department of Near Eastern and Judaic Studies, Brandeis University; Msgr. Patrick W. Sheehan, professor of Semitic Languages, the Catholic University of America; Rabbi Marc H. Tanenbaum, national director, Interreligious Affairs, the American Jewish Committee; Howard N. Woodland, of the Revised Standard Version of the Bible, and the National Council of the Churches of Christ.

It's the best look yet at, and sympathetic understanding of, the holy likes of Abraham, Isaac, Jacob and his sons, Moses, Joshua, the 16 judges of Israel, Ruth, Samuel, and Saul, Solomon, Elijah, Elisha, Isaiah, Jeremiah, Ezekiel, Esther, and the Maccabees — who belted the oppressive Syrians about 2,000 years before the Yom Kippur War of 1973.

There follows, of course, the story of the New Testament, with maps, remarkable illustrations based on what that barren part of the earth looked like — drawn from archaeological diggings — and what its people must have looked like before and during the time of Jesus, when Palestine was a Roman province so oppressed that the temple in which Christ was to teach bore the pagan Caesar's emblem.

There's Joseph and Mary and John the Baptist, realistic as life, in this book. And Peter and John, Martha, Lazarus, Judas who betrayed Him, and Paul, who brought His name and teachings to Rome, communications center of the known world.

And accounts and illustrations that give a casual reader who has had only meagre brushes with the standard Bibles a new concept of what it may have been or must have been like.

For example, as Moses lay dying on the summit of Mount Nebo, "... he could see the fertile green valley of the Jordan River and, just beyond, the Canaanite town of Jericho. To the south he saw the waters of the Dead Sea, glimmering red and gold in the sunset, and the purple Judean hills rising steeply westward toward Jerusalem. His eyes followed the winding course of the Jordan northward to the blue waters of Lake Galilee and then looked westward over the rough, rocky hills of central Canaan ... Then he closed his eyes and with the image of the Promised Land still before him, the great man died."

"Great People" goes into the last hours of Christ, too:

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A $100 million sale would be any salesman's dream.

It came true for Bob Baird of McDonnell Douglas Corp.

He sold four DC10 jetliners to Varig, the Brazilian airline. Two of the planes were delivered recently. One will be delivered later this year and another in 1975.

It took 5½ years for Baird to make the deal, so he found great satisfaction when the keys to two DC10s were turned over to Capt. Carlos Homrich, chief pilot and director of operations for Varig.

Baird, 45, directs the McDonnell Douglas sales program in Mexico and Central and South America.

Since production of DC10s began in January 1969, he has sold eight of the $25 million aircraft, including two to Aeromexico and two to Viasa, the Venezuelan airline. He also sells DC9s and used airplanes.

The DC10's basic price is $19 million, but extras bring it up to $25 million.

"We don't have one-cent sales or special deals if you buy a bunch," Baird said.

"Every deal is different. No two airlines come up with the same DC10. The internal configuration — the seating arrangement, the galleys — the electronic gear, navigation equipment all are according to customer specification.

"Another 7 per cent to 20 per cent of the basic price is spent by airlines on stocking initial parts. Like buying a car, by the time you get done with the "Just one example of how a knowledge of the everyday life of the time can help us more fully understand the stories of the Bible can be seen in the account of the arrangements for the Last Supper. As related in the Gospel of Luke, Jesus tells Peter and John to prepare a Passover feast. When they ask Him where to prepare it, Jesus replies, 'Behold, when you have entered the city, a man carrying a jar of water will meet you; follow him into the house which he enters.'

"Since the city of Jerusalem was full of Jesus' enemies, secrecy was necessary. Only if we know that in time no man would normally be seen carrying a water jar — that was women's work — can we realize that this was probably a secret, prearranged plan."

Speaking Of Your Health

by Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

I just can't stop smoking. Do you have any suggestions for kicking the cigarette habit?

Mr. C.F.T., Penna.

Dear Mr. T.:

Do you really want to stop smoking? It has been my observation that many people try to break the habit, and when unsuccessful, admit that they didn't really want to.

It takes a lot of determination and strong motivation to stop. There is universal agreement by all those who have given up cigarettes with that spirit of determination that it was not too difficult.

Unfortunately, lots of smokers need a calamity like a heart attack, emphysema, stroke, or other circulatory disease to force the issue of abandoning smoking.

Almost everyone who has stopped smoking seems to have a pet theory for breaking the habit. Some insist that chewing licorice gum is the answer because it dulls the cigarette appetite and still provides chewing action.

Others insist that carrying a "dummy" cigarette provides the hand action they feel is essential for their security.

Some are able to stop by tapering off gradually, while others say the only way is to stop abruptly — "cold turkey."

Dr. Donald E. Olson, of the Health Department in Omaha, Neb., said "About 10 years ago I began to be envious of people who didn't smoke, particularly those who had stopped. A high school student asked me, 'How can you expect young people to respect your leadership in health matters when they see you slowly destroying yourself with smoking?'"

"My conscience bothered me and, on my way to a Public Health meeting, I threw my cigarettes away 'cold turkey' ... and I was a two and a half packer a day."

Dr. Leona M. Culp, of the Public Health Service in Maryland, said, "What worked for me was to defer the first cigarette of the day as long as I could. From day to day there was a degree of satisfaction in observing how many hours of each day could go by without a cigarette. It wasn't easy, but it was a very satisfactory way of quitting."

Those who have stopped smoking must be on guard for real or fancied crisis situations that will make them go back to smoking.

Mr. T., have you noticed how many former smokers admit that they do not miss cigarettes at all?

My wife and I are, of course, people of impressions. We love London because, in spite of its enormous size, everything seems to be miniature: the Englishman's home, his two-by-four garden, his bowler hat, furred umbrella, taxi, even his toothy grin as he murmurs, "Cheerio," watching his nation go down the drain.

This was our sixth visit and we are always intrigued by the fact that few Englishmen are what they seem to be. This also applies to the women. They cultivate an air of starchy propriety but I gather, from their publications, that they are all sex fiends behind boudoir doors.

"Eve International" advertises "200 Beautiful Girls to Choose From" and counsels: "Make your stay in London a time to remember." A full page advertisement states:

The big story in the shrieking dailies concerned a 22-year-old wife who, standing in the dock at Old Bailey, said that she was tired of seeing her husband come home from work with "love bites" on his neck.

So, to frighten him, she put weed killer in his tea. She kept breaking down, sobbing as she testified, and insisted that she only wanted to scare him. It stopped the "love bites" because he died.

The prosecutor, in white periwig, clung to the corners of his black gown and asked if it were not true that the wife had a little something going for her in the person of a 40-year-old man.

This induced louder wailing. Yes, she had been seeing this man for a couple of years. "May I suggest," the Queen's prosecutor said a la Charles Laughton, "that it was this man who bought the weed killer and gave it to you to put into your husband's tea?"

Yep, True. However: "I loved my husband—in a way." When he was carried out in agony, the wife said, she promised to stick by him for the sake of the child.

She denied that she slept with her older friend the night her husband drank two cups of tea with three spoonfuls of weed killer. Not so, she said. She slept with him later. On the second night of her husband's agonizing exit, "I went to a bar, met a man, and had a good time."

But she isn't London, anymore than Harrod's is the only place to buy a trench coat. The proprieties are foremost. Little signs on little mews state: "Any person having an animal who fouls the footway is liable to a five pound fine."

BBC producer Jack Dabbs sports moist sympathetic eyes behind spectacles. He is, I would surmise, a church elder. Dabbs is in the dock charged with "having sex with call girls" for playing certain records on his broadcasting program.

In America, our disc jockeys are crass: they take money. A blonde testified that her friend Janie Jones "told me to have intercourse with Dabbs and another man ... I didn't want to do it, but she is someone you cannot say no to easily." Miss Jones wanted Dabbs to play a record called "Back on My Feet Again."

Margie Proops writes a column on Women's Liberation. She flew to Paris to find out why her French sisters were playing the weak clinging vine game. If, she mused, a liberated woman is no longer Mrs. and can be referred to as Ms., would a French wife be addressed as "Mad."

Proops interviewed Madame Francoise Giraud, editor of L'Express. "I expected to meet a stern, truly liberated woman lady who would be certain to support the idea of Women's Lib. Not so," Proops pontificated. "She finds it all quite absurd."

In the middle of the interview, the office door opened and an ex-cabinet minister, M. Servan-Schreiber, entered. Without a word, he "kissed the editor fondly, tenderly taking her head in his hands while she grasped his arms warmly."

"He departed and I commented that he hadn't struck me as a French version of a male chauvinist pig. She told me there is no equivalent phrase in France. No need to invent one either."

After dinner, we sat in the Connaught Hotel and watched the telly. There was a big production taken from the exact words on the Nixon tapes. Actors played the President, Haldeman, Ehrlichman, Dean, etc. It had an engaging title: "I Know What I Mean."

The wandering albatross of the southern oceans has the largest wing span of any bird, adult males averaging 10 feet 2 inches with wings tightly stretched. The largest recorded specimen was a male measuring 11 feet 10 inches in Western Australia about 1957.

He received a medal for perfect marksmanship and was one of two with high honors selected from 56 marines to attend the Marine Corps largest and most important school, the Marine Corps Communication-Electronics School. His mother is Mrs. Coyt Carrol.

specialist assigned to a unit of the Air Force Communications Service, previously served with Detachment 4, 425th Munitions Maintenance Squadron, New Brunswick, Canada.

The sergeant, a 1968 graduate of Circleville High School, received his A.A. degree in special education in 1970 from Bemidji (Minn.) State College. His father, Charles W. Davis, resides on R.R. 4, Circleville.

Sergeant Davis' wife, Debra, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph A. Hoselton of 469 Edwards Road.

JOSEPH M. BONE

Joseph M. Bone has enlisted in the United States Navy. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frances Bone, Lancaster. His mailing address is: Joseph M. Bone, 278-58-8983, 14th Battalion Co. 163, Recruit Training Command, Great Lakes, Illinois, 60068.

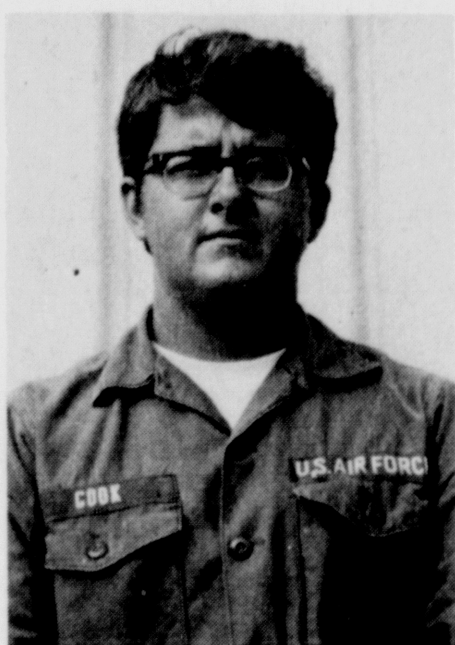

Sergeant Carroll L. Cook and Airman David Ray Henson spent two weeks active duty in England with Air Force Reserve. They are members of the civil engineer flight of the 906 Tactical Airlift Group, an Air Force Reserve unit stationed at Rickenbacker AFB.

DAVID RAY HENSON

They and 84 fellow Ohio reservists served their annual two weeks of summer reserve duty at Lakenheath Royal Air Force Base, England. The civil engineers — carpenters, masons, electricians, and heavy equipment operators — left Rickenbacker Sunday July 7 and returned July 21.

While at Lakenheath the Ohio reservists converted an old World War II barracks into an officers' billeting and dayroom area. Lakenheath is a United States Air Force installation located 100 miles northeast of London.

CARROLL L. COOK

Sergeant Cook lives on Route 2 and operates his own television sales and service business. He is a structures specialist with the 906th Civil Engineer Flight.

Airman Henson lives at 20 Gay St. in Ashville and is a carpenter with the 906th Civil Engineer Flight.

Technical Sergeant Larry V. Magana, whose wife, Judy, is the daughter of Mrs. Catherine Hollis of 213 Watt St., is a member of a special Air Force team now evaluating the newest jet fighter to enter its arsenal — the F-15 "Eagle."

Sergeant Magana is an aircraft accessories technician at Edwards AFB, Calif., with the Air Force Flight Test Center.

The joint test force is checking out the systems of the twin-engine, air-to-air combat fighter which can fly at speeds in excess of 1,600 miles per hour and at altitudes above 13 miles. The sergeant attended South Bakersfield (Calif.) High School.

Air Route Switch Asked

WINSTON-SALEM, N.C. (AP)—Piedmont Aviation Inc. and Delta Air Lines are seeking permission from the Civil Aeronautics Board to exchange routes involving service in North and South Carolina.

Piedmont said it has agreed to transfer its nonstop authority between Charleston, S.C., and Charlotte, Greensboro and Raleigh-Durham in North Carolina to Delta.

Delta would transfer its nonstop authority between Ashville, N.C., and Chicago, Columbus, Ohio, and Columbia, S.C. to Piedmont.

The CAB must approve the agreement before it can be implemented. If approved, Piedmont would no longer serve Charleston and Delta would no longer serve Asheville.

The announcement said none of the cities involved are new points for either airline.

Old Timers Invited To Ohio State Fair 50-Year Club Event

"Old Timers" who attended at least one Ohio State Fair fifty years ago, are invited to the 35th Annual Meeting of The Ohio State Fair Fifty-Year Club August 30.

Membership is voluntary, "automatic" and devoid of formalities. Any person eligible is urged to write the Ohio Expositions Commission at Columbus, Ohio 43211, enclosing one dollar for each ticket desired. This is half the regular rate of admission.

Parking at the Arts and Crafts Building will be free—windshield stickers will be furnished with the tickets. Each request for tickets must be accompanied by a self-addressed stamped envelope. Checks are to be made out to the Ohio Expositions Commission. Tickets available until August 19, 1974.

According to Walter Bluck, club president, a lively two hours of entertainment is assured beginning at 10 a.m. in the auditorium of the Arts and Crafts Building on the Ohio State Fairgrounds.

There will be a feature concert by the famous All-Ohio Youth Choir under the direction of Glenville Thomas. Parade of State Fair Queens, with introductions by Derrill J. Davis the Fair's associate supervisor of special events and a possible appearance by the Honorable John J. Gilligan, Governor of Ohio are included in program for the day.

Earl W. McMunn, editor of The Ohio Farmer, will be the featured speaker — His topic: "What About the Next Fifty Years," is expected to inspire the membership with renewed zeal for the Ohio State Fair. McMunn has been a state fair booster since his early youth as a Jersey calf club member in his native Guernsey County.

Attractive awards will be made to the longest-married couple, oldest gentlemen and oldest lady present, earliest exhibitor, and to the person traveling farthest to the meeting. The Ohio Expositions Commission will honor the club members with refreshments and free rides on State Fair Shuttle Buses throughout the day.

Some 300 are expected at this traditional reunion of State Fair Boosters which was initiated when the late W. H. Kinnan of Degraff served as State Fair Manager. 1974 officers include Walter L. Bluck formerly County Agent in Logan & Clinton counties and later Franklin County farmer, Cecil H. Robinson, prominent seedsman of Radnor, Delaware County and Mrs. Warren G. Weiler serve as Vice President and Secretary respectively. Dr. J. H. Lintner of Westerville is the immediate past president of the Club.

More than 250 members attended the annual meeting of the club last year representing 32 counties. Eligibility requires attendance of at least one Ohio State Fair 50 years ago. Spouses are invited and all members are asked

News Of Interest To Women

6 The Circleville Herald, Monday July 29, 1974

MR. AND MRS. DENNIS A. WOOD

Trinity Lutheran Church Setting For Wedding Vows

Trinity Lutheran Church of Circleville was the setting for the 7:30 p.m., June 15th, wedding of Miss Michele Annette Justice and Mr. Dennis A. Wood. The Rev. Carl Zehner officiated the double ring ceremony before the altar adorned with vases of yellow and white daisies. A program of nuptial selection was played by Mrs. Thomas Downing, organist.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. Richard Justice, Youngstown, formerly of Circleville and Mrs. Harve Rosenthal, Chicago, Ill. Mr. Wilson is the son of Mr. Wilson Wood of Circleville and the late Mrs. Annabelle Wood.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. Her gown, an original design made by her step-mother, Mrs. Richard (Patti) Justice, featured a hand embroidered lace bodice with short sleeves and empire waistline topping a soft organza covered skirt of bridal satin flowing softly into a chapel train. A lace ruffle topped the deep flounce on the skirt and decorated the caplet holding the bride's elbow length tiered veil of illusion. A wide white sash encircled her waist and formed a bow and streamers at the back. She carried a colonial bouquet of white and yellow daisies with yellow streamers and a hankiechief belonging to her grandmother, Mrs. Hazel Justice.

Mrs. Angella Weilbacher, sister of the bride, served as matron of honor. She was attired in a pink dotted swiss gown and carried a bouquet of white, green and pink carnations with pink streamers.

Mr. Mike Hunter was best man and Mr. Tom Port and Mr. Paul Garrison seated the guests.

A reception in the Parish House immediately followed the ceremony. A three tiered wedding cake and bouquets of green and yellow carnations graced the bride's table.

For a wedding trip to Chicago, Ill., the bride wore a navy blue pants suit with a matching halter top. The couple resides at Elsea Mobile Village in Circleville.

The new Mrs. Wood was a student at Fitch High School in Youngstown and will attend Circleville High School. Mr. Wood, a graduate of Circleville High School, is employed by Gordon's Glass and Auto Parts of Circleville.

Out-of-town guests at the wedding were from Youngstown, Columbus and Lancaster.

MR. AND MRS. HOWARD HUSTON

Open House To Celebrate 50th Wedding Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Huston will be honored for their 50th wedding anniversary with open house on Aug. 4th, from 2 until 5 p.m. at their home in Stoutsville.

The couple was married on Aug. 6th, 1924, at St. John's Evangelical Church in Stoutsville by the Rev. L. E. Hill. They were attended by Mrs. Neil (Luella Barr) Morris, now of Kingston and Kenneth Greeno now living in Lancaster.

Mrs. Huston has been quite active in Red Cross volunteer work. Mr. Huston served on the Washington Twp. School Board and the Pickaway County School Board, being president of the County Board for 25 years. He is now retired from farming and semi-retired as a carpenter. They are both still active in the St. John's United Methodist Church.

They have one daughter, Mrs. Donald (Joyce) Butterbaugh and four grandchildren. The family will honor the couple at a noon meal at the Wardell Party Home. After which the open house will be held, with Mrs. Butterbaugh being assisted by Mrs. Neil Morris, Mrs. Elmer Butterbaugh, and Mrs. Agnes Noggle. The couple requests no gifts.

August Wedding Plans Are Made

SANDRA JANE RESLER

Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Resler Jr., of the Grand Duchy of Luxembourg, Europe, formerly of Circleville, are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Sandra Jane, to Robert Dean Mabe, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert H. Mabe of London, Ohio.

Miss Resler is a graduate of Circleville High School and is currently attending the Ohio State University.

Mr. Mabe is a graduate of Ohio Northern University College of Pharmacy and serves as a trustee of the university. He is a self-employed pharmacist practicing at Berger Hospital in Circleville and Pike County Hospital in Waverly.

The wedding will take place Aug. 31st at Community United Methodist Church in Circleville. The tradition of open church will be observed.

Pickaway Senior Citizens Have Picnic At Hargus Lake

Pickaway Senior Center members and guests held their annual picnic Thursday at the Airy Acres Camp Ground at Hargus Lake. Mr. and Mrs. Randy Monk, managers of the Camp Ground were hosts.

Many of the people went out early and spent their time playing various types of games. Shuffleboard and horseshoes were a favorite with the men, and some tried their hand at pool and a table game of ten pins. Others played cards and many just enjoyed visiting with friends, old and new.

At noon everyone feasted on the abundance of food which had been brought. Since many people live alone, a group meal such as this is a real treat.

In the afternoon, Mrs. Fannie Brooks had prepared a short program which consisted of several quiz games, two readings from poems by James Whitcomb Riley which were given by Gladden Troutman and a reading, "The Two-Hen Subscription" by Mrs. Brooks.

Then the group was invited to play games, with Mr. Monk doing the leading. Mr. and Mrs. Monk also provided all of the prizes awarded during the afternoon. They were of various types of merchandise, ending with two cash prizes which were won by Mrs. May Rhymer and her daughter, Pauline Pearce.

Mrs. Blanche Kerns, president of the group, thanked the host and hostess for their fine hospitality. Since there was no business meeting planned, the July birthdays will be observed at the August meeting, which will be held August 22nd at the Lutheran Parish House.

Mrs. Lorentz announced there will be a bus trip to the Columbus Zoo on Wednesday, July 31st, leaving from the Lutheran parking lot at 9 a.m. Non-members may go on this trip, and children are welcome, if accompanied by an adult who will be responsible for their welfare.

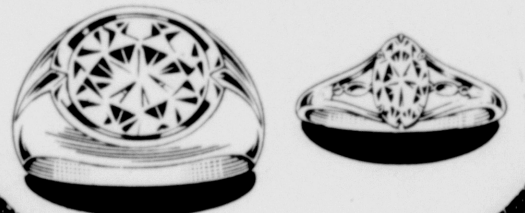

On Aug. 6th the group will be going by bus to see "Tecumseh." There are also seats available for this and reservations from non-members will be accepted now. For more information, please call the Center, 474-4916.

Toffee Bars
Great cookie from the good cook in Winnetka, Ill.

1 cup butter or margarine
1 cup packed light brown sugar
1 teaspoon vanilla
2 cups unsifted flour
1 egg yolk

Two 6-ounce bars milk chocolate with almonds

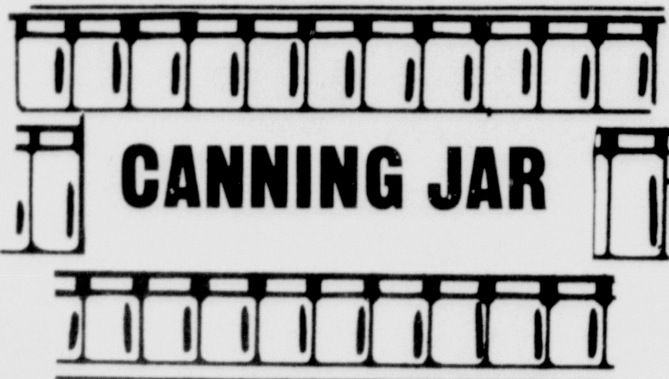

Cream butter, sugar and vanilla; beat in egg yolk. Gradually work in flour, using your hands if necessary. Pat over bottom of a 15 by 10 by 1 inch jellyroll pan; smooth with a small metal spatula. Bake in a preheated 350-degree oven until lightly golden — 15 minutes. Meanwhile break up chocolate at demarcations; as soon as cookie dough is baked place chocolate pieces over top and return to oven until chocolate softens — 2 minutes. Remove from oven and with the small spatula spread chocolate so it covers top. Cool. Refrigerate until chocolate is firm — about 5 minutes. Cut into bars. Store in a tightly covered tin box in a cool place with wax paper or plastic wrap between the layers of cookies.

Legislative Report

By MYRL SHOEMAKER,
State Representative
88th House District

The House and Senate approved a conference committee report on the $123.8 million supplemental appropriations bill.

Approximately $45 million, the largest single appropriation in the bill, has been allocated for state assistance to primary and secondary education. Every school district in Ohio will receive an additional $20 per student in state aid. The additional funds will probably be made available in a lump-sum payment to each school district around October.

About $22 million has been allocated for a graduated 10 to 30 cent per hour pay raise for public employees which will take effect August 1.

The personal exemption amount allowed on the state income tax will be increased from the present $500 to $650 per person. This provision will take effect for tax year 1975.

Other major appropriations in the bill include:

— $5.5 million for increased pension benefits for retired teachers and public employees.

— $2.1 million to subsidize transportation costs of students enrolled in programs for the trainable mentally retarded.

— $2 million for free transportation for persons over 65 on mass transit during non-rush hours.

The legislation will become law upon the Governor signing the measure.

The House and Senate acted favorably this week on landlord-tenant legislation, establishing in Ohio law for the first time the rights and responsibilities of both tenants and landlords.

Obligations of the landlord include complying with all housing codes and keeping the premises in habitable condition. Tenants are required to keep the premises clean and not destroy or damage the property. Methods of enforcement against landlords or tenants who fail to live up to their obligations are enumerated in the bill.

If a landlord fails to fulfill his obligations, a tenant is allowed to deposit his rent with a court until a decision is made on the complaint. Court costs would be deducted from that rent and a judge could make necessary mortgage payments for the landlord.

A security deposit in excess of one-month's rent will collect 5 per cent annual interest on the excess if the tenant is in possession of the premises for 6 months or more.

Taft Raps Television
Role In Impeachment

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Sen. Robert Taft Jr., R-Ohio, says he thinks television coverage of congressional impeachment debate "tends to make the whole thing political and demagogic."

But Ohio's senior senator added in a telephone interview Sunday that he thinks his opinion will not prevail and the proceedings "will be broadcast anyway."

Taft also reiterated earlier statements that he does not think President Nixon should resign or step aside while the impeachment deliberations are going on.

Lengthy Contracts For Steel Industry

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)— Concern over scarce steel supplies has prompted users to seek contracts guaranteeing delivery three, four and even five years in the future, Industry Week reported today.

William Tell
Statue Taken

EVANSVILLE, Ind. (AP) — A life-size bronze statue of legendary archer William Tell and his son has disappeared, says the sculptor who worked on it for 18 months.

Donald B. Engle, of Evansville, said the 500-pound statue, valued at $25,000, was in the back of a rented van which was apparently stolen from the parking lot of a Strongville, Ohio, motel early Sunday.

The statue was to have been placed Monday in the town square of Tell City, a Southern Indiana community named for the 14th century Swiss freedom fighter.

Engle said the statue, which depicts Tell holding a crossbow in one arm and embracing his son with the other, was being returned from casting at a New York foundry when it disappeared along with the van.

The statue was insured, he said.

One steelmaker told the editors nearly 40 per cent of its largest accounts wanted to sit down and discuss their coming steel requirements, product by product and plant by plant.

Even some steel companies have been seeking long-term contracts from their competitors for scarce ingots, slabs and billets, IW said.

Steelmakers usually turn down the requests, the business weekly added. To the auto industry and other big users, steel supplies look better than money. Heavy consumption and limited supplies have encouraged users to build inventories wherever possible, IW said.

The magazine said the one of the few places to look for relief may be Japan. IW said Japan is finding that China's payment record is not as good as its purchase record and may return to better-paying markets like the U.S. because the island nation is short of cash.

Meanwhile, scarce, dirty coking coal promises to bottle up production of raw steel even further, Industry Week said.

The business weekly based its prediction on prospects for a nationwide strike by miners of soft coal when their contract runs out in November.

In addition, the magazine said United Mine Workers President Arnold Miller has pledged the workers will take a 10-day "memorial observance" holiday, perhaps to pressure company contract negotiators. The union has used such a clause in the past after mine disasters.

A two-week miners' holiday in June stymied company efforts to stockpile metallurgical coal, IW said.

The editors said quality also is a problem.

Demand for steel is reported so strong some mines are shipping their product without washing. Steel mills generally lack facilities for washing, so the material is burned dirty, producing more than normal ash which is bad for the coking process.

Industry Week estimated that raw steel production in the week ending July 27 was 2,770,000 tons compared to 2,786,000 net tons the week before. Production has fallen below the 2.8-million tons mark in each of the last four weeks.

Credit Task Force Opens Hearings

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Governor's Task Force on Credit for Women opens a series of hearings today which officials hope will lead to recommendations for legislation later this year.

The Statehouse hearings will be followed by similar hearings during the next few weeks in Ohio's other major cities.

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

Wishes She'd Been Born Sterile

DEAR ABBY: Is it true that some women are just not cut out to be mothers?

Unfortunately, because of inadequate birth control methods, I find myself stuck with two kids. Before I had them, I had a job I really enjoyed, and I was free to come and go as I pleased without being at the mercy of baby-sitters.

My husband and I are drifting apart. He still has all the freedom he wants, but I can't go with him. A lot of resentment has been building up inside of me these past four years. Sometimes I actually hate my children for robbing me of my carefree life.

You would think that any normal mother would love her children dearly, but if I had only one wish, it would be that I had been born sterile.

Wouldn't it be nice if all the women in the world who want kids and can't have them could change places with those women (myself included) who don't want kids and could have a dozen?

I'm not a child abuser, but I still resent my children. I'm not writing for advice because nobody can help me. It's just something I'll have to live with. After all, it's not their fault that they were born. It's mine.

If there were a book entitled "How to Learn to Love Unwanted Children" it would be just what I need.

NAMELESSINGA.

DEAR NAMELESS: You are not alone, but most mothers with your feelings would not admit (even to themselves) that they feel that way. It would make them feel too guilty.

Your letter makes an excellent case for birth control. Every child deserves to be a wanted child. You can't possibly feel this way without communicating your resentment to your children. (You may not abuse them physically, but you are depriving them emotionally.)

To quote the late Lord Brian: "When, wherever you live in the world, you can have children when you wish, that will be a revolution with more far-reaching effects on the pattern of human culture than the discovery of atomic energy."

DEAR ABBY: Our daughter was recently married at a lovely church wedding. It was her first marriage, but Billy had been married briefly before. (The marriage was annulled.)

The bride and groom received a beautiful sterling silver tray from Bill's aunt and uncle. The following card was enclosed: "This tray is not monogrammed, but if you are married a year from now, and you take it to Hudson's jewelry store, they will monogram it for you free of charge."

Love, Aunt Peggy and Uncle Clifford"

Well, Abby, what do you make of that?

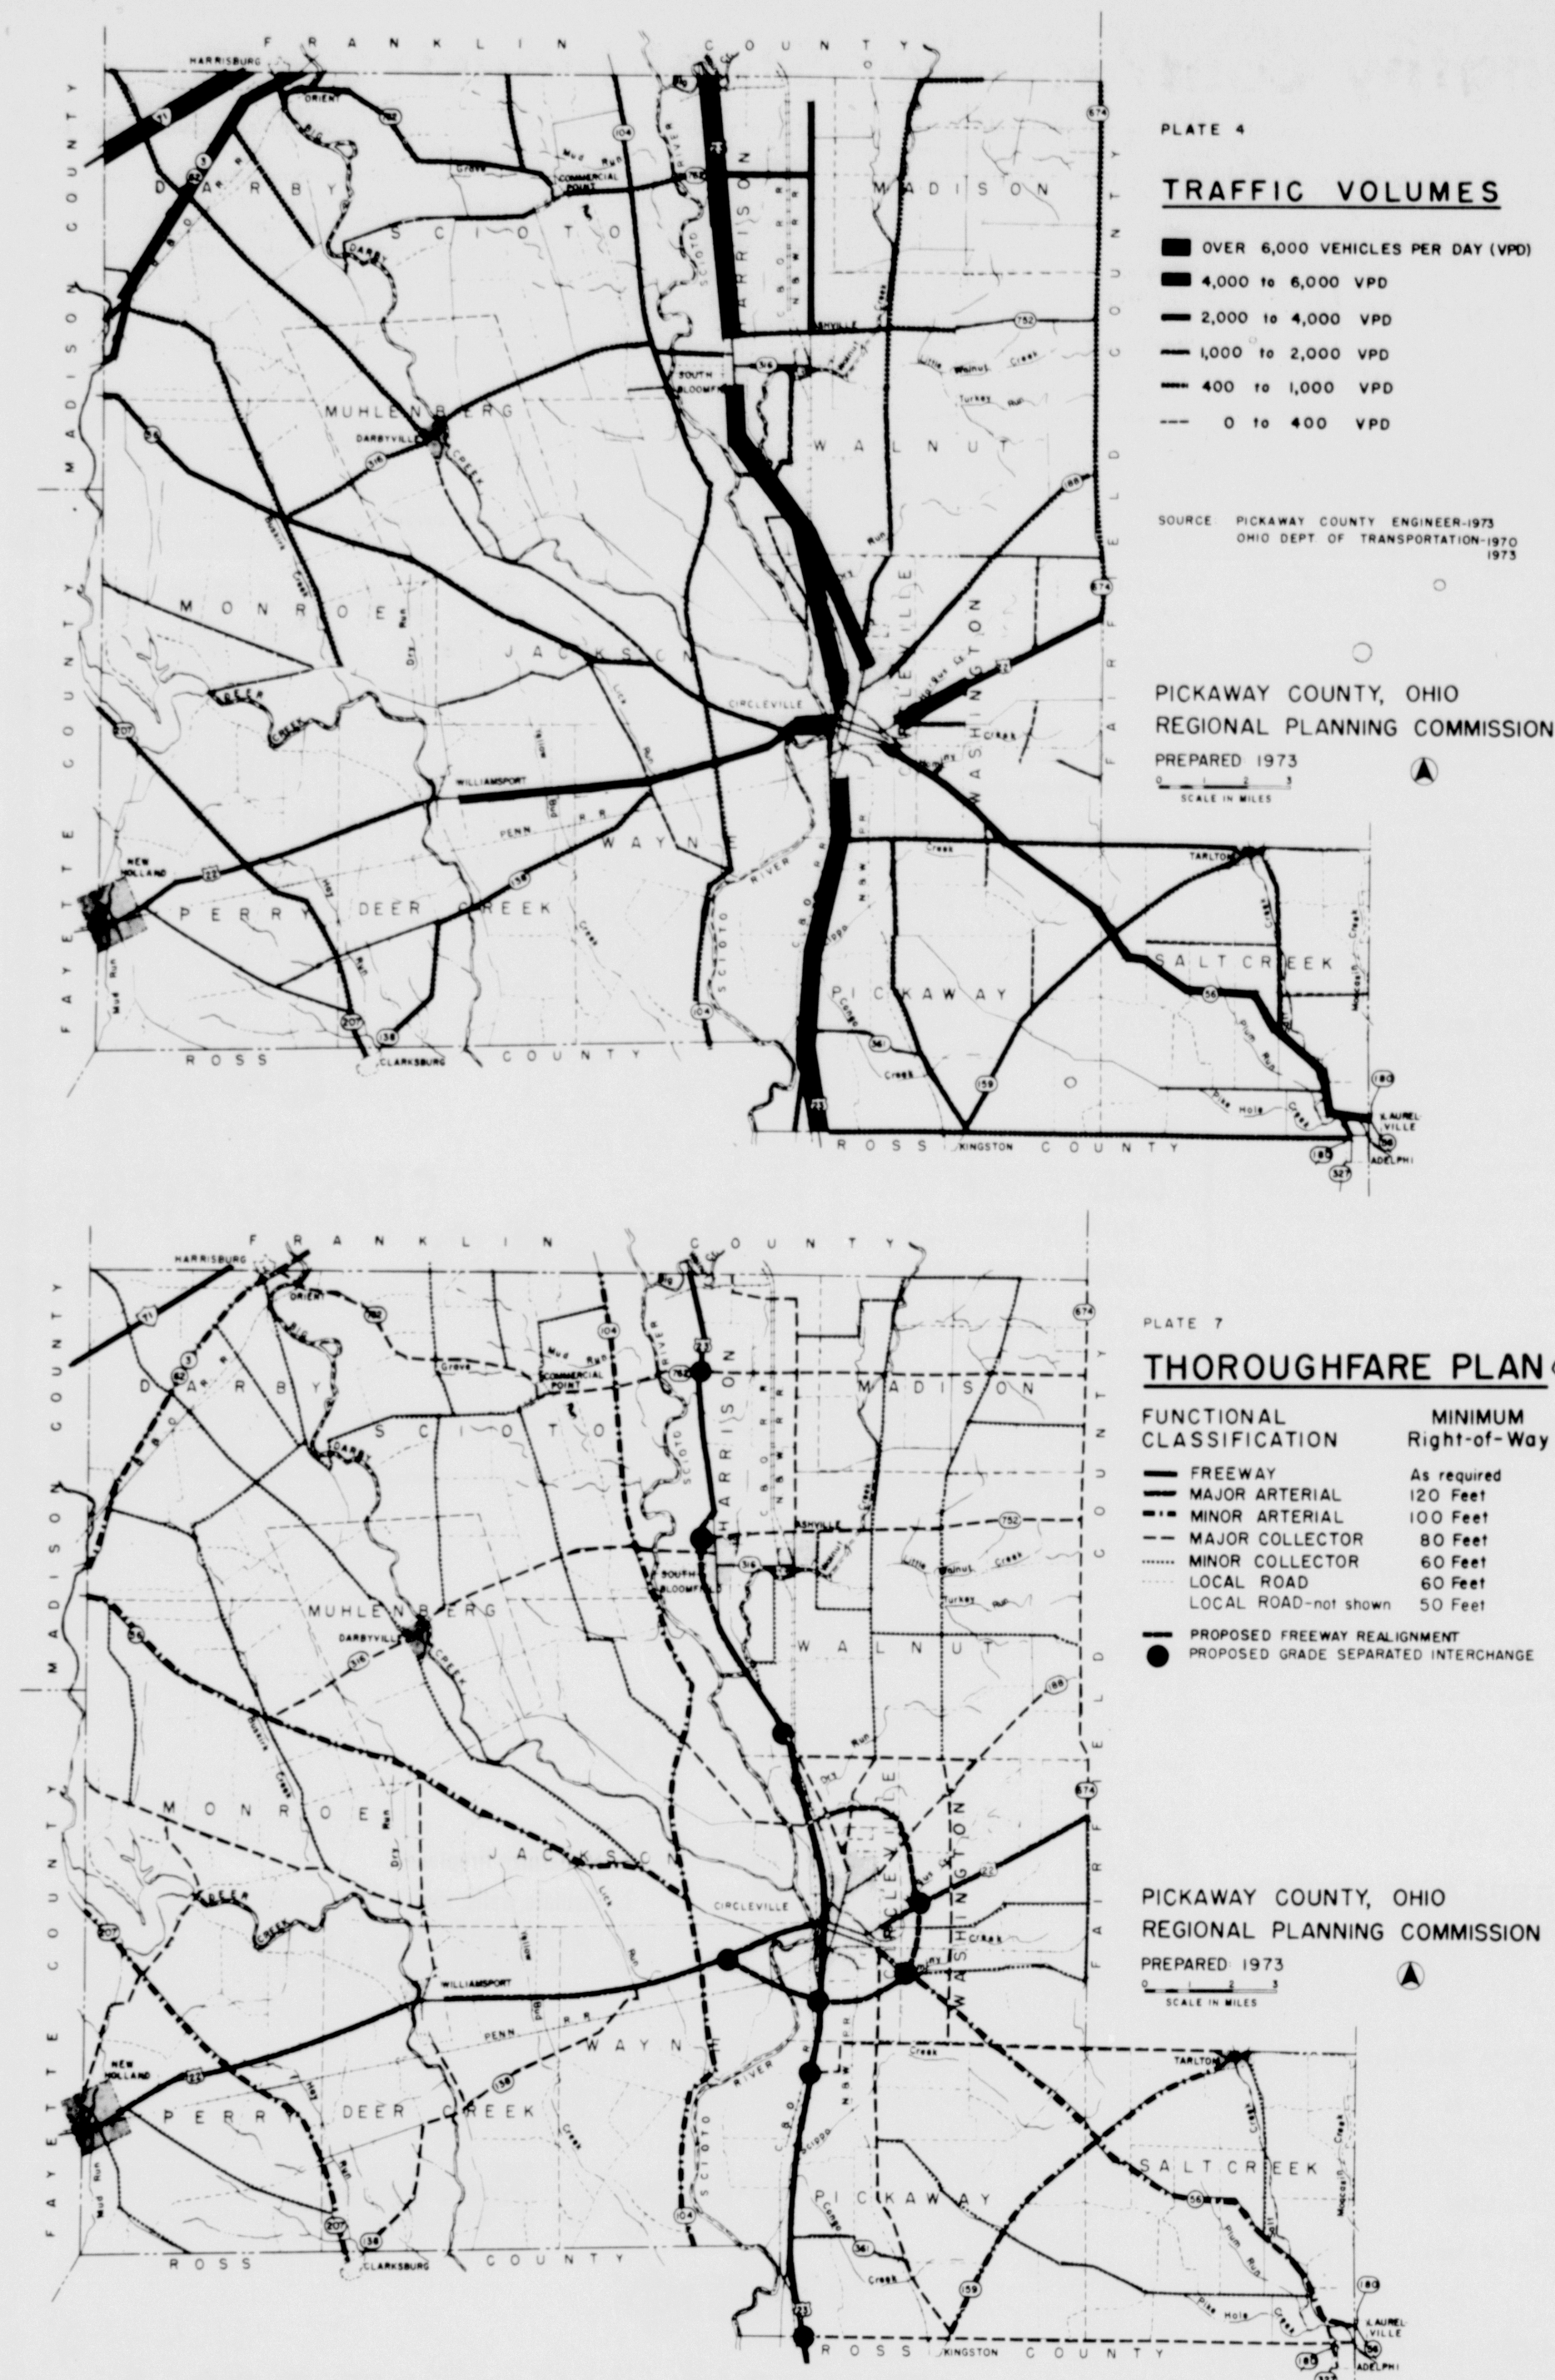

INDIGNANT MOTHER

DEAR INDIG: It's a pretty good bet that Aunt Peggy and Uncle Clifford sent Billy a wedding for his first time around, and because it was monogrammed, it was unreturnable. And they wanted to make sure history didn't repeat itself. (It's practical, but in poor taste.)

DEAR ABBY: In reference to that Ph.D who claimed he had traveled all over the world and had been in the company of ambassadors, etc., and that they didn't know what R.S.V.P. meant: Everybody knows it means "Rented suits very proper."

C. FELTON: ALHAMBRA, CALIF. PROBLEMS? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. For a personal reply, write to ABBY: Box No. 69700, L.A. Calif. 90069. Enclosed stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

Oil Profits Skyrocket

NEW YORK (AP) — Three more oil companies have reported dramatically higher second-quarter profits this year—in two cases more than double the earnings of the same period a year earlier.

Atlantic Richfield Co., the nation's ninth-ranked oil firm, reported that after-tax earnings rose 104 per cent in the second quarter. This year, the second-quarter figures are $139.7 million or $2.47 a share, as against $68.4 million or $1.20 a share in the June 1973 quarter. Sales this year were $1.8 billion as against 1973's $1.1 billion.

Getty Oil Co. profits also more than doubled—to $62.2 million or $3.32 a share, compared with $23.3 million or $1.23 a share a year earlier. Getty sales were $675.2 million in this year's second quarter as against $406.9 million in the same period of 1973.

And Amerada Hess Corp. said second-quarter profits of $46 million or $1.22 a share were up from last year's $33.32 million or 88 cents a share. Sales were $961.74 million this year and $393.68 last year.

The reports came after other oil companies had made public similarly large gains in profits for the second quarter. Most attribute the increase to strong chemical sales and higher crude oil prices.

Probe Continues In Fairfield Slaying

LANCASTER, Ohio (AP) — An investigation continued today into the death of Glenn Nunheimer, 19, whose body was found Sunday in a parked car in northwestern Fairfield County.

The sheriff's office said two juveniles who admitted beating Nunheimer were picked up and being held at Waynesburg, Pa. An adult also has been implicated, deputies said.

Columbus police said the victim was abducted from a car rental agency at Port Columbus Airport, where he worked, beaten, then abandoned with the car.

the developer, the property owner and the community at large by making them aware of what roads are suitable for housing subdivisions or plant sites and by keeping them aware of the future expectations for the roads.

Before adoption of the thoroughfare plan a public hearing must be advertised and held to hear arguments for and against the proposals of the plan. Following the hearing the plan may be modified or adopted.

Members of the planning commission's transportation committee are: Don Collins, Bob Liston, Ned Harden, Paul Ewing, Henry McCrady and Priscilla Steele.

The thoroughfare plan and charts are on file in the Pickaway County Engineer's Office and the Pickaway County Commissioner's office for public inspection.

Guide Lamp GM Workers Ratify Contract

ANDERSON, Ind. (AP) — Nearly 5,000 workers at General Motors' Guide Lamp Division plant in Anderson, Ind., have voted to ratify a new contract and go back to work.

Bud Miller, president of Local 663, said 95 per cent of the members who attended the meeting on Sunday voted to ratify.

The workers, members of United Auto Workers Local 663, walked off the job Friday when contract talks stalled over wage issues.

The plant makes headlights for all GM car and truck divisions.

But UAW strikes at GM plants in Lordstown, Ohio and St. Louis, Mo., continued today.

The strike which began June 28 by 5,700 workers in St. Louis shut down assembly lines that make Corvette sports cars, Chevrolet light trucks and the Chevy Impala and Caprice.

Talks were to resume this morning at Lordstown, where a strike is in its third week. Production of the Chevrolet Vega and van trucks there at a standstill.

GM says the Lordstown strike is costing it a daily loss of 1,600 Chevrolet Vegas and 500 trucks.

The company and union declared a news blackout on the talks Monday and neither side has said if there has been any progress.

Lordstown local 1112, which has been without a local contract since September, struck July 12 in a dispute over a new contract covering 7,800 hourly workers.

Ordination Of Women Stirs Fuss

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Amid wide controversy, 11 women are to be ordained Episcopal priests here today, the first of their sex to be given that clerical rank in the church's history.

The ceremonies at Philadelphia's Church of the Advocate were set in defiance of the denomination's long-time practice and regulations.

But in the view of the bishops conducting the services—as well as that of Philadelphia's strongly disapproving Bishop Lyman Ogilby—the ordinations will stand as theologically valid, although irregular.

The officiating bishops declared they were acting in obedience to the spirit of a risen Christ who summons believers to "walk in newness of life" in seeking freedom, liberation and dignity. The bishops added:

"Hearing His command, we can heed no other."

Their course of action came in spite of a plea from the church's presiding bishop, the Rt. Rev. John M. Allin, that they abandon their rebel maneuver.

The women become the first in the western world to be ordained through the so-called "apostolic succession"—a chain of authority traced back to Jesus' apostles by laying-on of hands from one generation to the next.

This line is maintained in the Roman Catholic Eastern Orthodox and Anglican churches, of which the 3.1-million-member Episcopal Church is the American branch.

Often called a "bridge church," it embraces both Protestant and Catholic traditions. Ordaining women in it constitutes a historic breakthrough in the male dominance of the priesthood.

"Our primary motivation is to begin to free priesthood from the bondage it suffers as long as it is characterized by categorical exclusion of persons on the basis of sex," says a joint statement by the 11 women.

The women, ranging in age from 27 to 79, have completed their theological training. They've been serving as deacons, a preliminary step to the priesthood.

Most of the bishops of their home dioceses, however, have warned that their ordinations would subject them to disciplinary action, either suspension from their work or prohibitions against filling any priestly role.

Only priests can consecrate the elements at holy communion for the church's central service of worship.

Three inactive bishops, who were officiants for the ordination are:

Resigned Philadelphia Bishop Robert L. Dewitt, now publisher of an independent church magazine; retired Bishop Daniel Corrigan, of Denver, former head of the church's domestic missions; and retired West Missouri Bishop Edward R. Welles, now of Manset, Maine.

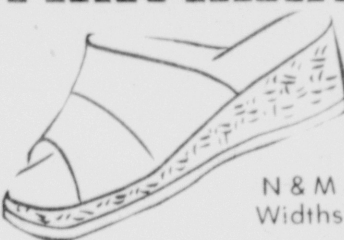

The women are Merrill Bitner, 27, of Webster, N.Y.; Alla Bozarth-Campbell, 27, and Jeannette Piccard, 79, both of Minneapolis; Alison Cheek, 47, of Annandale, Va.; Emily Hewitt, 30, of Newton Centre, Mass.; Carter Heyward, 29, of New York City; Suzanne Hiatt, 37, of Philadelphia; Marie Moorefield, 30, of Topeka, Kan.; Betty Schiess, 51, of Syracuse, N.Y.; Katrina Swanson, 36, of Leawood, Kan.; and Nancy Wittig, of Warren, N.J.

Reds Slaughter Padres, 14-1

CINCINNATI (AP)—Relentless in the hot, humid though polluted weather, the Cincinnati Reds stalked two steps closer Sunday to the National League western division leading Los Angeles Dodgers.

The Reds, in two weekend triumphs over the hapless San Diego Padres, cut the Dodgers' lead to 3½ games, closest since April 26.

Cincinnati has won 18 of its last 21 games. The catalyst was a July 4th week drubbing at the hands of the Dodgers here in which Los Angeles took three of four games.

"It was like that commercial where the guy gets slapped in the face and says 'Thanks, I needed that,'" said Reds catcher Johnny Bench, who belted four hits in Sunday's 14-1 triumph over San Diego.

Manager George "Sparky" Anderson blames cool, rainy weather in the early season in the east that allowed Los Angeles to get far ahead. "The cool weather does it," said

Anderson, whose team has won the division three out of the last four seasons. "For some reason they don't unwind," Cincinnati belted the Padres in single games Saturday and Sunday and meet again here tonight.

Anderson made seven lineup changes in the top of the seventh inning leading 12-1 and saying he wanted to rest his starters "for the stretch." He also lifted starter Jack Billingham, 12-7, who had pitched in relief Thursday night.

The lone Padres run came in the fourth inning when Clarence Gaston singled to left scoring Enzo Hernandez who had also hit safely.

Joe Morgan had hit his 14th homer of the year the previous inning and the score stood at 3-1 when Morgan drew a walk to open the fifth inning.

Padres starter Dan Spillner, 5-6, walked three in a row and was lifted.

Bill Laxton walked in a run. Two more came in when Nate Colbert dropped Ken Griffey's line drive. Another scored when Jack Billingham struck out on a wild pitch by Larry Hardy. Cesar Geronimo drove in the final run with the Reds only hit of the inning.

Another reliever, Lowell Palmer, had a similar fate in the Reds four-run sixth inning. Darrel Chaney hit a ground rule double following singles by Bench and Tony Perez scoring one. One out later, Terry Crowley singled, scoring Perez. Chaney scored on Palmer's wild pitch. Geronimo had an infield single and Pete Rose hit a sacrifice fly scoring the last run.

Cincinnati tallied twice more in the eighth on a bases-loaded single by Bench who now has 71 rbis for the season.

Five Padres pitchers walked a total of 10 Reds.

Bosox Hammer Yankees; Win 8-3

By KEN RAPPOPORT
AP Sports Writer

For the New York Yankees, playing in Boston is no Tea Party. Swallowing their own particular brand of poison, the Yankees lost to the Red Sox Sunday for the 10th straight time in Fenway Park and also the 19th time in their last 20 games.

This time, a gallant pitching performance by Bill Lee provided the Red Sox with an 8-3 victory. After some early trouble, Lee set down the last 13 Yankee hitters.

The Red Sox extended their unique domination over the Yankees even with mistakes. They managed to win despite undisciplined baserunning.

The Yankees came into Boston just one game behind the Red Sox in the American League East race and now are three games down.

In the other American League games, the Milwaukee Brewers blanked the Baltimore Orioles 4-0; the Minnesota Twins beat the California

Angels 5-3 in the first game of a doubleheader before losing the second 12-9; the Detroit Tigers trimmed the Cleveland Indians 6-3; the Oakland A's took two games from the Chicago White Sox, 7-2 and 3-2 and the Texas Rangers trimmed the Kansas City Royals 6-4.

Brewers 4, Orioles 0

Jim Slaton, 8-11, fired a three-hitter and George Scott and Mike Hegan clouted two-run homers as Milwaukee continued its mastery of Baltimore.

The win was the ninth in 12 games between the teams this season.

Twins 5-9, Angels 3-12

Jerry Terrell and Glenn Borgmann lashed two-run singles to highlight a four-run fourth inning for Minnesota and Bill Campbell pitched out of a bases-loaded situation in the seventh as the Twins defeated California in the first game of their doubleheader.

Ellie Rodriguez, Bobby Valentine, Bruce Bochte and Lee Stanton hit two-run homers and Rodriguez hit a tie-breaking double in the eighth inning to give California a second-game victory.

Tigers 6, Indians 3

Mickey Stanley set up a first-inning run, then clubbed a three-run homer to highlight a five-run ninth that put Detroit over Cleveland.

A's 7-3, White Sox 2-2

Gene Tenace hit two home runs and Bert Campaneris doubled home two runs to give Oakland a victory over Chicago in the first game of their doubleheader. Sal Bando's two-run double highlighted a three-run rally in the third inning of the second game as the A's completed a sweep and took an eight-game lead over Chicago in the West.

Rangers 6, Royals 4

Alex Johnson and Jim Fregosi blasted home runs as the Rangers whipped the Royals. Jackie Brown needed ninth-inning relief help from Steve Foucault to even his record at 8-8.

Tigers Defeat Cleveland In 6-3 Game

CLEVELAND (AP)—Detroit's Mickey Stanley has played in 96 games and been to bat 389 times this season and if you ask him he'll tell you he got his first hit Sunday against the Cleveland Indians.

"It feels like that was the only hit I've gotten all season," said Stanley, after his three-run ninth inning homer brought the Tigers from a 3-1 deficit and a 6-3 victory over the Indians.

"It seems like all season I've just been going to the plate and trying not to embarrass myself," the 32-year-old veteran continued. "I've struck out more times this season already than I've ever done in any other year."

Stanley was batting .219 going into the game and had 62 strikeouts.

Stanley went two-for-five in the game and added another strike out to his list.

His other hit came in the first inning and he scored the Tigers first and only run through eight innings on Jim Northrup's sacrifice fly.

Stanley's homer followed one-out pinchhit singles by Gates Brown and Norm Cash.

"That was the story of that game," Tigers Manager Ralph Houk said. "My pinchhitters came through. And Mickey couldn't have picked a better time to hit a home run."

The home run put the Tigers on top 4-3. The big hits came off Cleveland reliever and loser Fred Beene. Detroit added two more runs off reliever Bruce Ellingsen when Gary Sutherland scored on a fielder's choice and Northrup crossed the plate on Bill Freehan's single.

Steve Arlin started the game for the Indians and went seven and one third innings, giving up one run on seven hits.

McGraw, Mets Stop Expos

By BRUCE LOWITT
AP Sports Writer

"I'm a whole month ahead of last year," Tug McGraw grinned. "If I'm that far ahead, can you imagine what the rest of the club's going to do in September?"

What McGraw did Sunday was enough for the time being. He won a ball game.

And once again, the call wafted through the New York Mets' locker room, the slogan that Tug made famous in last year's September drive from last place to the National League championship.

"You gotta believe," McGraw said.

He might have added: "...in yourself."

The Mets' left-handed reliever, who has lost four games this year and owns a balloonsized 5.25 earned-run average, didn't win his first game last year until the 124th of the season—Aug. 22, to be exact. Sunday's 4-1 triumph over the Montreal Expos was 1974's 97th game for the Mets.

In Sunday's other National League games, Pittsburgh beat Philadelphia 4-3, St. Louis downed Chicago 5-4, Cincinnati bombed San Diego 14-1 and, in a pair of 10-inning games, Atlanta edged Los Angeles 3-2 and Houston tripped San Francisco 3-2.

"We've gotta push ourselves harder," McGraw said.

Pirates 4, Phillies 3

"It was a big ball game, but not crucial," Manager Danny Murtaugh said after his Pirates beat the first-place Phillies, whose divisional lead was trimmed to two games over St. Louis.

"Anybody in the East could still win it yet with two months left," he said. Tommy Hutton's triple and Jay Johnstone's solo homer gave the Phils a 3-0 lead before the Bucs woke up.

Cards 5, Cubs 4

Ted Sizemore led off the ninth inning with a homer to power St. Louis closer to the top and drop the Cubs into last in the East.

Reds 14, Padres 1

Joe Morgan hit a home run in the third inning and opened an error-aided five-run fifth with the first of four consecutive walks for a run in the

Bob Nichols Canadian Golf Winner

POT CREDIT, Ont. (AP) — "You're shooting at the hole," Bobby Nichols said. "That's what you do in this game. This just happened to be my day."

The big, rangy veteran oneputted 11 times—"It must have been a little discouraging to the guys I was playing with," he said—on his way to a two-under-par 68 and a front-running, four-stroke triumph Sunday in the Canadian Open golf championship.

It was Nichols' 11th individual triumph in a 15-year pro career—and almost certainly one of his happiest.

"It gets me in the World Series of Golf," he said after his 10-under-par total of 270 on the 6,788-yard Mississauga Golf Club course. "Thank Goodness, I'm in. I can't tell you how much that means to me. It was going through my mind all day."

The World Series of Golf, bringing together only the four men who have won the season's major championships, will be played this fall at famed Firestone Country Club, a course at which Nichols serves as head pro.

Nichols, 38, was challenged at one time or another by Jack Nicklaus, Lee Trevino, Ray Floyd and Ben Crenshaw before he settled the issue with a string of three consecutive birdies starting on the 12th hole.

From then on it was a fight for second. John Schlee and Larry Ziegler eventually tied for that position with 274 totals. Ziegler had a last round 69, Schlee a par-matching 70.

Anderson Joins Camp With Bengals

CINCINNATI (AP)—Cincinnati Bengals Coach Paul Brown, predicting more defections, today prepared for expanded practice sessions for returning veterans who have quit the National Football Players Association strike.

The Bengals now have more than half their squad in camp — 25 — as they prepare for the first exhibition game Saturday night in Cincinnati with the Miami Dolphins.

Starting quarterback Ken Anderson, who was ranked eighth in passing in the NFL in 1973, headed a trio of starters who reported in Sunday night. "This thing has gone far enough," was Anderson's only comment.

Anderson had been staying at a nearby state park since the beginning of the strike and had been furnished play books daily by the coaching staff, according to player representative Pat Matson.

Also reporting in were tight end Bruce Coslet, who last week was walking the picket line, and receiver Chip Meyers.

"I don't think this is the end of those coming back" before the first exhibition game, said Brown. He predicted more would show up this week because the league contract dispute was not resolved.

"This is a very unique team," said Matson. The Bengals have more defections from the strike than any other NFL club.

Matson said he planned no further strikers meetings. "All they do is stand around and fiddle around. I don't know what to say or do," said the starting offensive guard.

Natalie Martin Wins At Grove City Track Meet

Natalie Martin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernie Martin, won two events at the Grove City Recreation Track Meet Saturday.

She won the 880 yard dash in 2:31 and the high jump with an effort of 4 feet 8 inches.

In addition she was third in the 100 yard dash with a time of 12.3 and third in the 220 yard dash in 29.6. She participated in 14 to 15 year age group.

Your Horoscope Television Schedule

By FRANCIS DRAKE

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

FORTUESDAY

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 20): You may have to alter directions now. Don't fight necessary changes — especially in plans involving future security. Adapt to the new factors.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 to May 21): Some unprecedented moves or unusual situations likely. Study all carefully so that you can cope efficiently.

GEMINI (May 22 to June 21): You may find it easier to do things yourself than to depend on others who may not wish to cooperate. You'll do them better, too.

CANCER (June 22 to July 23): Planetary influences somewhat restrictive now. Be careful in romance. Emotional situations could get out of hand.

LEO (July 24 to Aug. 23): Your ambitions in high gear now — even more so than usual. But harness your energies and direct them only into constructive channels.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 to Sept. 23): Some misleading influences call for special astuteness. Be on the alert for persons who are unreliable or impractical — and avoid!

LIBRA (Sept. 24 to Oct. 23): You may have to revise some views, revamp a pre-planned program if you are to attain the goals you desire. But do this efficiently and good results are certain.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 to Nov. 22): Perseverance, despite possible obstacles, will bring handsome rewards soon. Your business acumen should be highly stimulated.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 to Dec. 21): If you know you are on the right track, stay there; do not go off on tangents without good reason. Curb a prevalent tendency toward restlessness.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20): Financial matters now have an element of risk, so make your moves slowly and deliberately. Personal relationships, however, promise to be exceptionally congenial.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19): Watch and wait before you engage in new undertakings, but do not hesitate where real advantages are obvious. A somewhat mild day, but tricky in spots.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20): An excellent day in which to formulate long-range plans. Something which has seemed out of reach is closer than you may imagine.

YOU BORN TODAY are endowed with a magnetic personality, boundless ambition and a tremendous capacity for achievement. You are genuinely concerned about your fellowman, but insist on helping him in your own way — and in the areas in which YOU think he needs help. Try to cultivate a more universal viewpoint to properly evaluate the needs of those to whom you would give assistance. Unusually versatile, there are many fields open to you in the choice of a career, but you would probably achieve your greatest successes in the areas of business, finance, politics, statesmanship and writing — especially as a journalist. You are also a born salesman and, when necessary, meet adversity with powerful resolution. Birthdate of: Henry Ford, auto magnate; Casey Stengel, baseball manager; Paul Anka, singer.

WILLING—Henry Aaron above, said that he would be willing to manage the Atlanta Braves, but it wouldn't happen because the team would not ask him. Aaron was right. The team hired Clyde King, former San Francisco Giants manager.

The more than 198 million acres of forests in Ontario cover about 75 per cent of the province's total area.

Views On Television

NEW YORK (AP) — Jim Hartz, a mild-mannered former medical student from Tulsa, Okla., started making house calls on NBC today as the new, permanent cohost on the network's "Today" show. A good, solid reporter with 10 years logged at NBC News, he came to Fun City in 1964 to coanchor a local 11 p.m. news show at WNBC-TV with the "Today" host he now succeeds, the late Frank McGee.

He got in the news business on a part-time basis, working at radio station KRMG while attending medical school at the University of Tulsa. He gave up the healing arts in 1962 to be a full-time newsmen.

The reason? "By the time I was in my fourth year at school I had a wife and two kids, after starting as a freshman, single," he said. "I was really working my way through college as a reporter."

"But money was a bit tight, needless to say, and with four more years of school to go, plus two years of internship, I found I liked journalism better."

"And I thought, 'Hell, I can always go back to medical school. I want to give this a shot.' And I've never had any regrets."

The 34-year-old newsmen, whose on-air style is wry with no ham, will have to do something on "Today" that many reporters regret—occasionally read commercials along with the show's other regulars.

Critics contend that such hawking of wares on the show damages the cast's credibility as journalists or commentators. NBC officials say it's a necessary evil that gives the $100,000-a-week show the loot it needs to maintain the quality and timeliness of its news segments.

The show's executives say that without the practice sponsors might flee, as they did in 1961-1962, when then-host John Chancellor refused to read commercials.

Hartz worries about it, but notes that (a) it came with the job, and (b) the revenue it brings "to the news department is vital."

Society Worried

NEW YORK (AP) — The National Audubon Society has called on its 300,000 members and the general public to boycott goods from Japan and Russia until those countries "stop their needless slaughtering of whales."

The board of directors' action was taken, it said, after appeals to the governments of Japan, Russia and the United States proved fruitless.

Japan and Russia are the only two nations that have refused to abide by quotas set by the International Whaling Commission, the society asserts.

It has canceled all advertising for Japanese and Russian products in Audubon Magazine, and canceled two ecology workshops scheduled for Russia and one for Japan.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it: AXYDLBAAXR is LONGFELLOW

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Both the adult fine arts and crafts and the junior fine arts shows were judged Sunday afternoon at the coliseum. Best of Show awards went to Valley Rahe, 320 Watt St., in the adult division; Jorge Cook, 127 Park Place in the 15-19 division; Craig Schein Route 2, in the 12-14 division; Marie Theis, 574 Oakland Terrace, in the 9-11 division.

Impeachment Roll Call Vote Listed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Here is the 27 to 11 roll call vote by which the House Judiciary Committee on Saturday adopted an article recommending impeachment of President Nixon on grounds of obstructing justice.

By an identical vote, the committee earlier accepted the impeachment language proposed by Rep. Paul S. Sarbanes, D-Md., as a substitute to an article of impeachment motion originally offered by Rep. Harold P. Donohue, D-Mass.

For the article: 27. Democrats for: 21.—Donohue, Mass.; Brooks, Tex.; Kastenmeier, Wis.; Edwards, Calif.; Hungate, Mo.; Conyers, Mich.; Eilberg, Pa.; Waldie, Calif.; Flowers, Ala.; Mann, S.C.

Sarbanes, Md.; Seiberling, Ohio; Danielson, Calif.; Drinan, Mass.; Rangel, N.Y.

Jordan, Tex.; Thorton, Ark.; Holtzman, N.Y.; Owens, Utah; Mezvinsky, Iowa; Rodino, N.J.

Republicans for: 6.—Raisback, Ill.; Fish, N.Y.; Hogan, Md.; Butler, Va.; Cohen, Maine; Froehlich, Wis.

Republicans against: 11. Hutchinson, Mich.; McClory, Ill.; Smith, N.Y.; Sandman, N.J.; Wiggins, Calif.

Dennis, Ind.; Mayne, Iowa; Lott, Miss.; Moorhead, Calif.; Maraziti, N.J.; Latta, Ohio.

Judging the show was Mrs. Dorothy Depugh, Waverly. She is a graduate of Ohio University and holds a bachelor of science in education in visual arts. She is an art teacher at Adena Local Schools in Frankfort.

The entries will be released to the exhibitors beginning at 10 a.m. next Sunday. Ju-Lea McQuain was chairman of the show.

Concrete Truck Drivers Slate Vote On Contract

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Striking concrete truck drivers vote today on a contract offered by seven area firms hoping to end a June 1 strike affecting projects in Cincinnati, northern Kentucky and southeastern Indiana.

The Richter Concrete Corp., one of seven firms involved, announced plans over the weekend to go out of business, blaming rising costs, competition and labor troubles.

The firm declined to say how many jobs were involved, when it would close or whether the action would affect its operations in Dayton and Cleveland.

The drivers are represented by Teamsters Local 100. Ten other building trades unions earlier settled contract disputes.

Bikes, Cash Said Taken

Barbara Bush, 163 Hayward Ave., reported that persons walked into her home and removed two twenty dollar bills and a one dollar bill from her purse. She had gone to a friends house for 10 minutes and noticed it missing when she returned. Ptl. Ford was the investigating officer.

Alora Salvage, 126 E. Mill St., reported her bike was stolen late Friday or early Saturday from in front of her house.

She parked it there Friday night and noticed it missing Saturday morning. The bike was valued at $80.

Holly Garner, 508 E. Ohio St., reported someone took her 10 speed bike from in front of her home. She noticed the bike was missing Friday. The bike was worth $90.

PERENNIAL FAVORITE—

Gene Kelly appears in person with Kenley Players at Veterans Memorial, Columbus, in the beloved musical, "Take Me Along", starting Tuesday, and running through Sunday. Weeknight performances are at 8:30 p.m., Sunday, 7:30 p.m., plus two matinees on Saturday and Sunday at 2:45 p.m. Gene Kelly will be seen in his best soft-shoe manner. The show promises to be the blockbuster of the summer.

EDITH ANN—Cristi Williams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Williams, Route 5, was the first place winner in Sunday night's talent contest at the 1974 Pickaway County Fair. Representing the Alice's Angels 4-H Club, Cristi did a comedy act patterned after one done earlier on the television series "Laugh In". Cristi will be a seventh grader at Teays Valley Junior High next fall.

When you complain ... WE SAY "THANK YOU"

All of us at Kroger work very hard to give you the kind of shopping service and product quality you want and deserve. We want to please you. That's why we guarantee everything we sell on a replacement or money-back basis.

When you tell us about a problem, you are giving us the opportunity to show you that we care. You are asking us to keep you as a Kroger customer. We enjoy hearing from you when you are pleased. But once in a while something can go wrong. And if it does, we want even more to know about that. You also are helping us to identify and correct problems and thus to serve all customers better in the future.

So, unusual as it seems, that's why we say "Thank You" when you complain!

We hear you and we're trying to help!
